

I urge the FCC NOT to mandate Digital Television copyright protection. Such a mandate could have a disastrous impact on innovation in the burgeoning market of digital media hardware and software. Please leave it to the market and the creativity of engineers, programmers and others to solve the problem of copyright protection.